HOT BRICKS

FUEL BRIQUETTES

£4.60 FOR 15KG BOX

IT'S (A BRITISH) SUMMER so you'll probably need fuel for heating... Green Dragon Fuels have just come up with 'eco-friendly' briquettes that contain crushed oil seeds; no additives and no impurities.

A single briquette is claimed to burn for up to three hours; the equivalent of six wood logs, and with twice as much energy. The makers say they can be used as a direct replacement for wood in any wood burning appliance and require less storage space than wooden logs. Other benefits are that they are clean, easy to handle, and stack well. They come in 15kg boxes – each contains 12 small or six large briquettes. The only question now is what do they smell like?
